Closing in on the Finish!

The History with a Heart capital campaign is "within a couple of boat lengths to the finish" according to Peter Gerard, campaign board chair.

We are now less than $300,000 away from meeting our total $2.5 million goal! Approximately $68,000 remains to be raised toward the Phase II renovation and improvement project to make our historic building fully accessible to the public and our constituents. Our $2 million investment into the preservation and improvement of our mission-critical facility, the last remaining original structure on Market Square, is a testament to the great response from our donors and support from the community.

Equally important is the new $500,000 Building Maintenance Endowment Fund, for which $225,000 must still be raised. Championed by the Alletta Morris McBean Charitable Trust, this endowment fund will ensure our building is protected well into the future. There are still several naming opportunities within the building, as well as the new Wetmore Society, for donors who wish to provide a lasting contribution or legacy gift to Seamen's endowment.

We could not be more proud of the tremendous quality of work that has been accomplished during this past year. What began first with major demolition to the third floor and old first floor restrooms evolved into a complex engineering project to accommodate the new elevator and fire-rated stairway. Now finished, the new construction seems from the outside to blend seamlessly into the building's historic structure.

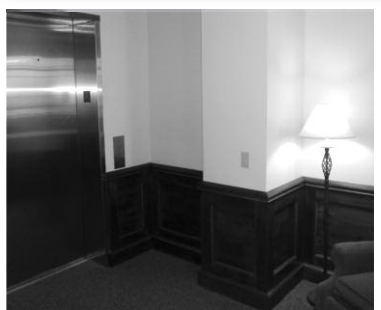

Further improvements include a new first floor meeting room, a new hallway and elevator lobby on the second floor, and a completely renovated third floor. The rooms on the third floor are masterfully restored and remodeled to include two handicap accessible rooms and two new barrier-free restrooms. We are very excited to re-open our overnight housing accommodations in a way that will help fulfill the mission of Seamen's more than ever.

Between the months of May and July, special events for donors and the public will be scheduled to celebrate all the changes at Seamen's. We all are certainly looking forward to a well deserved Campaign Closing Party!

Recognition Bricks

The new Bowen's Wharf entrance and elevator lobby is enhanced with a display of nearly 300 engraved bricks as part of our Recognition Wall. The centerpiece of the wall is a plaque recognizing the passage of the American Disabilities Act in 1990. Only 30 bricks remain available through June 1st to complete this distinctive wall so the complete installation will be finished by our Annual meeting in November. Bricks may be ordered for $250 using the order form available online at www.seamensnewport.org.

The Wetmore Society

Seamen's is pleased to introduce The Wetmore Society to its donors and friends. The Wetmore Society is a special recognition program for those who designate Seamen's as a beneficiary in their estate plans. To learn more about The Wetmore Society and the potential advantages of including Seamen's in your estate plans, please contact us at (401) 847-4260.

SCI's Building Improvements Recognized at 91st Annual Meeting

At the 91st Annual Meeting of Seamen's Church Institute on November 19, Board President David C. Brown recognized 2010 as a milestone year for the organization and thanked board members, staff, donors and the membership for their outstanding support while the Institute has undertaken a major construction project to renovate our historic building at 18 Market Square.

"In less than 12 months, and because of the dedicated effort by so many, we have made significant changes to our building. Not only do these changes look like they have been here for many years, but now everyone will have access to all four levels of our beautiful facility," said Brown.

Louis A. Fazzano of Newport was elected as a new member of the Board of Directors. Juliette McLennan, a member of Seamen's Board of Directors, shared a letter received from former President George H. W. Bush congratulating the Institute on its accomplishment of creating an ADA compatible facility.

Following a brief business meeting in the Henry H. Anderson Jr. Library for Mariners, an estimated 70 members and guests enjoyed a cocktail reception, a slide show chronology of the construction over the last 11 months, and tours of the improvements to the third floor using the new elevator.

Juliette Clagett McLennan shares letter from President G.H.W. Bush at Seamen's Annual Meeting. Below is an excerpt from the letter.

"Barbara and I send greetings and good wishes on this special occasion when the Seamen's Church Institute dedicates its newly renovated, ADA compatible facility. I commend the Board and everyone involved with the important work of Seamen's Church Institute for your commitment to maintaining the highest level of service for the residents of Newport that need a helping hand," wrote President Bush.

The brick-faced plaque placed on the wall opposite the elevator reads: "In honor of the 20th Anniversary of the Signing of The American Disabilities Act of 1990 by George Herbert Walker Bush, July 26, 1990. 'Together, we must remove the physical barriers we have created and the social barriers that we have accepted'"

A Special Visit

by Paul Callahan, Member, SCI Board of Directors

Upon my arrival to Newport in the early 1990s, I regularly drove my wheelchair past this beautiful, historical brick building, always wondering if the inside was comparable to its imposing architectural stature on the outside.

Nearly 20 years later, due to the recently installed elevator in this 91-year-old building, it was a breathtaking experience to traverse the interior of the Seamen's Church Institute on March 11, 2011. Having only been told of its magnificence inside, I was overwhelmed to feel the structure come to life with its sparkling new renovation. Touring the building with its very competent new superintendent, John Feld, I was impressed with not only its physical renovations, but also with the programs and camaraderie it could support.

As the mariners and others in need benefit from this wonderful new "campus," I am delighted to report that due to the efforts of its dedicated supporters that everyone will have access and the ability to experience the benefits of the Seamen's Church Institute – with its brand new elevator for people with disabilities or any people who become mobility impaired.

Board Member Paul Callahan and John Feld.

New Superintendent Appointed

John P. Feld, Superintendent

The Board of Directors has named John P. Feld as the 7th Superintendent of Seamen's Church Institute of Newport effective February 14, 2011.

"John has extensive experience in not-for-profit management, particularly in the human services area," said David Brown, Board President. "He is extremely well connected in Newport County and has a real understanding of the needs of the underserved members of our community. We very much look forward to working with John in strengthening and building upon our ninety-one year history and mission of serving as a "safe haven" for men and women of the sea as well as others in our community in need of assistance."

John has served as a Senior Substance Abuse Clinician at CODAC Behavioral Healthcare, Inc. in Newport. He has served two terms as President of the Newport Substance Abuse Taskforce, as Sub-Committee Chair of Families First, Chair of the Social Service Broadway Improvement Committee, and is the current President of the Newport

Children's Theatre Company. In addition, he is a past member of the Middletown Substance Abuse Task Force, the Newport Partnership for Families, and the Newport Initiative for Non-Profit Leadership.

"I am certainly looking forward to my new role at Seamen's Church Institute," said Feld. "I have been most impressed with the commitment of its Board, the dedication of the staff, and its long history of hands-on involvement in the community."

The Board of Directors acknowledges Tom Bair who served as Interim Superintendent since July 1, 2010. "Tom helped keep Seamen's operational during the past seven months," said David Brown. "With the re-opening of the Aloha Café and the final work needed to complete renovations and render our historic building accessible to all, we are grateful for Tom's help in ensuring that we continued to fulfill our mission during this period of transition."

A Note from the Superintendent...

As I sit in my office here at Seamen's, a little more than two months into my appointment, I am brought to a memory that lies within my heart. Years ago, during my fishing days, I remember entering Newport harbor after fishing George's Bank. We had been offshore for a fortnight. The morning wind was warm, the sea calm. The red buoys off our starboard side were lying motionless after a two day northeaster. I was at the top of the mast working to reset wire rope into the block and tackle because it had fouled during the storm and needed attention. From the top of the mast I looked toward the docks and saw my parents waving to me with big smiles for my safe return once again. The memory of coming into home port, where I could be assured of support and a "safe haven" seems particularly appropriate at this point in my life as the 7th Superintendent of this amazing organization.

For almost a century, Seamen's Church Institute has been a place known in the local community for offering our facilities, various levels of assistance, individual encouragement, and respite for thousands of men and women who come through our doors. Since our founding in 1919, Seamen's has been a refuge for seafarers of all types as well as individuals and families who need a helping hand during a time of personal crisis. Given today's economic challenges, our organization must work creatively to stay relevant to meeting these needs as well as to find new sources of income that will allow us a level of sustainability without dependence on shrinking funding sources. I look forward to working with the Board to meet these challenges in a way that will ensure our mission continues to make a difference in the quality of life for folks on the waterfront as well as in the Newport County community.

My entire family shares my pride for our beautiful historic building, the programs and services we provide, and most of all, a genuine excitement for my new position here at Seamen's. I thank the Board of Directors for giving me this opportunity to "man the helm" as we navigate the SCI into the future.

2011 Maritime Scholarship

An invitation is extended by SCI for candidates to apply for the 2011 Leonard W. and Katherine C. Hayward Maritime Memorial Scholarship. Eligibility is limited to students of all ages from Newport County who are pursuing marine-based occupations. This annual scholarship of $1,000 is given in memory of Leonard W. Hayward, former SCI Board President and his wife Kitty, an ardent volunteer for Seamen's.

"The Hayward Memorial Scholarship was established through the Seamen's Church Institute to support students of all ages who are preparing for employment in a wide range of maritime careers," said John Feld, Superintendent. "Each year, we encourage applications from individuals in our area who have an obvious interest in pursuing careers related to boats and marine technology. Last year we were pleased to award this scholarship to our first female recipient, Kaitlyn M. Nanartowich of Newport, who began her studies at the Massachusetts Maritime Academy last September. We think it is important to offer this scholarship assistance to acknowledge the importance of the marine trades in the history of Newport County."

Deadline for 2011 Scholarship Applications is May 6, 2011. Application forms are available at SCI or on our website at www.seamensnewport.org and should be submitted to:

The Scholarship Committee
Seamen's Church Institute
18 Market Square, Newport, RI 02840

Anyone interested in contributing to the Scholarship Fund, is encouraged to send their designated donation to John Feld at the Seamen's Church Institute.

Aloha Café News

The waterfront is eagerly awaiting May 21st when the Aloha Café will open on weekends for a full 7 day schedule! Hours remain the same, from 7:30 am to 2:30 pm, and our hearty breakfasts will continue to be served till closing! Chef Lainie's Daily Specials are attracting a popular following on Twitter, our weekly email bulletins, and of course, word of mouth. Check out the "Saving $1.00 Coupons" at the bottom of the weekly notices by signing up on the Aloha Café page on our website at www.seamensnewport.org.

Café Catering

Planning a sail race or regatta,
day on the water or picnic in Newport?
Call the Aloha Café and ask about our great "bag lunches." Or, plan a business meeting or seminar at Seamen's and ask the Café to help with catering your breakfast or luncheon.

Another Evening of Beautiful Music for SCI

The Rhode Island Wind Ensemble presented a delightful "Music of Ireland" program as part of the annual Newport Winter Fest's Community Concert hosted by Seamen's Church Institute at the Newport Marriott Atrium on February 20th. An appreciative crowd enjoyed the free Concert thanks to a sponsorship received from People's Credit Union, with additional support from the Newport Marriott Hotel and the Rhode Island State Council on the Arts. Once again, donations to benefit the work of Seamen's Church Institute were accepted at the door and reaffirmed the ongoing support SCI receives from our community.

"Spring Into Art"

Designed as a promotional event to highlight the arts in our community and celebrate Newport County as an arts destination, the Arts & Cultural Alliance of Newport County included Seamen's as part of their April 16-23 schedule of events. From Monday through Friday, a luncheon series to Talk With the Artist invited the public to enjoy a brown bag (or Aloha Café) luncheon in the Mariner's Lounge with a different artist each day talking about a different art-oriented topic. In addition, collection boxes were located during that week in the Mariner's Lounge to collect new and gently used art supplies for distribution to art teachers in Newport County public schools. It was wonderful to see so many new and creative faces!

A previous summer in the Memorial Garden.

...and, the Art of Spring

Once again, were looking forward to the promise of spring. The Newport Garden Club will be "adopting" the SCI Memorial Garden to create a special place for rest and reflection on the busy waterfront. Patio tables and new plantings will welcome visitors to our own mini-oasis.

Coming Events...

Please note, some of these events are sponsored by Seamen's Church Institute, while others are programs or events are using our facility.

Brick Unveiling and Dedication

We are planning for the unveiling and dedication of our Brick Recognition Wall and the new, long-anticipated elevator in May! Seamen's is now fully accessible to everyone who wants to visit our facility, attend an event, enjoy breakfast or lunch at the Aloha Café, or spend a night or two on the third floor! A brief program will be followed by a reception and open house to highlight all the major renovations and improvements to our historic building on the Newport waterfront.

Celestial Navigation Made Easy!

Master Chief Byron Franklin was a Quartermaster for 26 years on various surface ships and nuclear submarines before retiring in 1978. Franklin created a free introductory class to introduce his "The Two-Minute Star Finder & Celestial Navigation" program at SCI in April. Participants were able to choose attending one additional class on the Star Finder, or four additional classes for a more comprehensive study of celestial navigation principles.

Seamanship Training on the 'Bonnie Lynn'

During the months of June and October, Seamanship courses will be offered onboard the 'Bonnie Lynn', a 72 ft. gaff-rigged topsail schooner that will be visiting Newport. Owners Earl and Bonnie MacKenzie have logged over 100,000 miles this impressive sailing vessel since she was launched in 1998. Students will learn everything from the basics to preparing for the unexpected while aboard this ideal classroom. For details and registration, go to www.bonnielynn.com or call 401-835-3367.

More details on these and other events are regularly posted on our website: www.SeamensNewport.org or call 401-847-4260.

Living our Mission

Once again, good food, good company, and the Holiday season brought our community together for another opportunity to “live our mission” at Seamen’s. On Thanksgiving Day, volunteers from our Board and all parts of Aquidneck Island served the traditional meal of turkey with all the fixings and homemade pies to approximately 260 guests over two hours in both the Mariner’s Lounge and the Henry H. Anderson Jr. Library for Mariners.

Thanks to the generous support of individuals, various organizations in the community, and area businesses who donated dollars, food, serving dishes, chairs, tables, and lots more, the spirit of thanksgiving was a visible theme throughout the day.

On Christmas morning, Seamen’s served an estimated 130 people for our festive Breakfast Buffet, and SCI Board member Mike Curran and his family once again hosted about 120 people who came to the Annual Holiday Breakfast Buffet between Christmas and New Year’s Day.

Soup to the Docks a program sponsored by Seamen’s since 1992, continues to coordinate our dedicated volunteers who deliver hot soup twice a week to the three working commercial fishing docks in Newport and financially support a similar program for those working in the port of Galilee. In mid-May, Newport’s menu shifts from hot soup to hotdogs for “Dogs to the Docks” during the summer season.

SCI'S 2010 DONORS

For 91 years, Seamen's Church Institute has been able to continue our Mission to serve men and women of the sea, and others in need in our community, because of the generous support we receive from individuals, businesses and organizations throughout Aquidneck Island and beyond, indeed from all corners of the world!

Whether support was given to our History with a Heart capital campaign, a Recognition Brick, membership in the Friends of SCI, a memorial gift, regular donations for our human services or public programs, community meals, the annual Holiday appeal, volunteered time, donated items or services, we extend our heartfelt thanks to all our 2010 donors!
